

Something to think about...

Extracts from the speech made by the Vice Lord-Lieutenant at the Wendlebury refurbishment celebration, about how churches welcome people:

“Of course you meet every newcomer at the door with a smile and a friendly greeting, but how powerful it is to have that backed up with a welcome you can touch and feel: A loo for someone who has travelled two hours to a funeral or a wedding; A cup of coffee and a chat after Sunday’s service for someone new to the village; A speaker system (and here I declare an interest) for someone whose ears are getting a bit dodgy. So, on behalf of the whole community - those who already come to church and those who will feel really welcomed when they do - congratulations on what you’ve achieved and thank you for keeping this church at the very heart of the community we serve today.”

CONGRATULATIONS to Hampton Gay on being awarded the Bronze Eco Church award. Bletchington is nearly there on their award, too. That leaves just 2 of our churches before we can be a Bronze Eco Church Akeman Benefice!

A colorful poster for 'Miss Daulton's Little Makers' creative workshops. The central text reads 'MISS DAULTON'S LITTLE MAKERS' in a playful, multi-colored font, with 'CREATIVE WORKSHOPS FOR CHILDREN AGED 3-11' below it. Further down, it says 'A colourful morning of painting, creating, singing, writing and playing' and 'EVERY SATURDAY 10 - 11:30 AM' in large, bold letters. The location is 'Wendlebury Village Church'. At the bottom, it states 'First session is free. £10 per session' and provides contact information: 'Follow us on Instagram @missdaultons_little_makers' and 'Contact Olivia on 07542600826'. The poster is decorated with images of children painting, a church interior, and various craft supplies like paint palettes and musical notes.

The Green Corner

How about a sustainable Advent? Instead of plastic, you could bend willow round to make a frame for your Advent wreath. And what about potato-printing some wrapping paper instead of using that stuff glittery stuff that can't be recycled. With a big bow even newspaper can look festive round a present, and is great in compost afterwards.
